HEARST CONTEST UP AGAIN.

Before Judge Lambert.

After a rest of ten days, Justice Lambert and the jury in the Supreme Court to-day resumed the tria' of the suit brought by Attorney-General Jackson in the name of the people of the State of New York in the interest of William Randolph Hearst to test the right of George B. McClellan to the title of

At the adjournment, May 15, Clarence Shearn, Mr. Hearst's private counsel, employed in the case as special assistant by the Attorney-General, an-assistant by the Attorney-General, announced that he and Deputy Attorney-General Doison believed they had established the primary and prerequisita branch of their case, that the Tammany police and Tammany Board of Elections had not tampered with the ballot boxes nor the ballots in them.

But to-day Mr. Snearn thought he ought to introduce more testimony. So Capt. Frederick W. Martens, in command in the Mulberry street station on election night, 1905, was called to testify as to how the ballot boxes from districts in that precinct were guarded while in the station house prior to delivery to the Board of Elections.

The captains of seventy-nine other precincts had something to do with guarding the ballots, and they will follow Martens.

The twelve cop-weary jurors sighed and settled down for a renewal of the bore which will keep them from their business and their vacations this summer.

mer.

After swearing a police officer to show that the ballot-box from the Sixth Election District of the Second Assembly District was one of those deposited at Capt. Martens's station-house and that it had been properly guarded, Hearst's lawyers sprang a surprise on everybody by suddenly offering that the lot-box in evidence and moving that it be opened and the ballots recanvassed.

Vassed.

Eugene Lamb Richards, jr., of coun-sel for Mayor McClellan, objected, and the real battle was opened in a rei-liet skirmish.

Mr. Richards had seventeen reasons why the box should not be opened, all based on the election law.

He objected that the boxes had not been in the custody of their proper

He objected that the boxes had not been in the custody of their proper custodian; that the election law providing for the destruction of the ballo's six months after the election the ballots of 1905 have no legal existence at this time; that new ballot boxes having been constructed for election purposes, these 1.948 no longer are ballot boxes, but ordinary boxes; that the ballot boxes of 1905 have been for more than two years in the wrongful and unlawful custody of the police and the Hears party watchers; that the quo warranto brought by Attorney-General Jackson was begun too late under the election law; that the ballots in the boxes are not all the ballots, in the boxes are not all the ballots, in the boxes are not all the ballots in the boxes are not all the ballots in several districts; that the proof of the preservation of the ballots inviciate is not complete.

Mr. Dolsen argued in behalf of the motion to open the box.

A subpoena to President John J. Dowing, of the Bard of Elections with an order to produce certain ballot boxes was issued this morning by Mr. Dolson, and later Corporation Counsel Pendleton got an order from Justice Green-baum to the Deputy Attorney General to appear before Justice Guy this afternoon and show why Mr. Dowling should not ignore it.

This acted as a stay and the main trial was halted until this side issue is finished.

The probate was granted after the will had been "solemnly proven." This immusual course was taken as the relatives of Mr. Blount, who were not mentioned in the will or left the smallest legacy, threatened to contest the instrument on the ground that Mr.
